ILLINOIS SUPPLEMENT TO EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

The following policies supplement the policies contained in the Washington University Employee Handbook and are specific to the state of Illinois. Where this Addendum and the Employee Handbook conflict, this Addendum states Washington University’s policy with respect to Illinois employment.

The contents of this Addendum are guidelines only. Neither this Addendum nor any other guidelines, policies, or practices creates an employment contract. Washington University reserves the right to change, correct, modify, or revoke this Addendum or any of its terms at any time with or without notice. Nothing in this Addendum alters the at-will nature of employment. Although other terms, conditions and benefits of employment with Washington University may change from time to time, the at-will nature of employment with Washington University is one aspect of the employment relationship that cannot be changed by any oral statement or alleged oral statement. It can only be changed pursuant to a written agreement covering employment status.

WORKPLACE DISCRIMINATION AND HARASSMENT

Washington University hopes that any incident of unlawful discrimination or harassment can be resolved through the internal process outlined in the Employee Handbook. In Illinois, employees also have the right to file formal charges with the Illinois Department of Human Rights (“IDHR”) and/or the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (“EEOC”). A charge with IDHR or EEOC must be filed within 300 days of the violation. More information can be found online at https://www2.illinois.gov/dhr/Publications/Documents/SH%20and%20discrimination%20employee%20poster.pdf.

PREGNANCY ACCOMMODATION AND NON-DISCRIMINATION

1. The Illinois Human Rights Act addresses an employee’s rights if she becomes pregnant, is recovering from childbirth, or has a medical or common condition related to pregnancy that might give rise to the right to request a reasonable accommodation.

2. If pregnant, the employee has the right to:
   • Ask Washington University for a reasonable accommodation for the pregnancy, such as more frequent bathroom breaks, assistance with heavy work, a private space for expressing milk, or time off to recover from pregnancy.
   • Reject an accommodation offered by Washington University for the pregnancy that the employee does not desire.
   • Continue working during pregnancy if a reasonable accommodation is available which would allow the employee to continue performing your job.
   • Remain free from discrimination because of pregnancy and from retaliation for having requested a reasonable accommodation.

3. It is unlawful to terminate, refuse to hire, or refuse to provide a reasonable accommodation because of an employee’s pregnancy. For more information regarding a pregnant employee’s rights, download the Illinois Department of Human Rights fact sheet at www.illinois.gov/dhr, or see the IDHR’s poster onsite or at www.illinois.gov/dhr/publications/documents/pregnancy_posting-lgl-eng14.pdf, which explains this law in more detail. Washington University fully complies with these requirements.

FUNERAL/BEREAVEMENT LEAVE

Employees who incur the loss of a child and are eligible for FMLA leave may take up to ten (10) unpaid scheduled days off. This time off will coincide with the Bereavement Leave outlined in the Handbook. Time off must be used within 60 days from the time the employee receives notice of the death. In the event the employee suffers the loss of more than one child in the same 12-month period, he/she will be entitled to take up to six weeks off of work. An employee taking child bereavement leave under this paragraph may elect to apply available paid leave toward his/her bereavement leave.

FAMILY MILITARY LEAVE

3. Employees must provide Washington University with at least 14 days’ notice for leave lasting five or more consecutive workdays. For leaves of less than five days, employees must provide Washington University with as much notice as possible.

3. Eligible employees must give at least 14 days’ notice to Washington University of the date when leave will commence if it will consist of five or more consecutive work days. Consult with your supervisor to schedule leave so as not to unduly disrupt business operations.

4. If the leave is less than five consecutive work days, please provide your supervisor with reasonable advance notice.

5. Employees may be required to provide certification from a civil air patrol authority of eligibility for the requested leave.

6. Employees may elect to continue their health insurance at their own expense while taking leave in accordance with this policy.

Employees who are parents, guardians, or custodial grandparents are entitled to take up to eight hours each school year to participate in the school activities of their child, ward, or custodial grandchild who is in a licensed day care facility, kindergarten, or grades 1-12. Time off may not exceed four hours in any calendar day of the school year. Employees are eligible for school visitation leave after they have been employed for at least 6 consecutive months and work at least a half-time schedule.

2. School visitation leave may be taken only after the employee has exhausted all accrued vacation, personal, compensatory, and other leave (except sick and disability leave). Employees may be required to provide a written request for leave at least 7 days in advance, except in emergency situations, where 24 hours’ notice may be required. Washington University may require the employee to provide written documentation from the school verifying the employee’s attendance at a school activity.
3. If time off work for school visitation leave is unpaid, Washington University will make a good faith effort to allow the employee to make up the missed work time if the employee wishes to do so.

VOLUNTEER EMERGENCY WORKER LEAVE

PROHIBITION OF WEAPONS

Washington University strictly prohibits the possession or carrying of firearms and other weapons on Washington University property, while on Washington University business, or while in a Washington University-owned vehicle. The sole exception to this policy is that employees in Illinois may store a firearm in a privately owned vehicle in a Washington University parking lot if the vehicle is locked and the firearm is not visible from outside the vehicle.
